Series: Tackling common credit risk questions during challenging times

Credit risk management is top of mind for many financial institutions given the failures of multiple banks, high inflation, and uncertainty around interest rates. Many bankers today have weathered numerous economic cycles, but this one presents challenges not seen in a very long time.

Watch this webinar series for a look at familiar topics and credit skills under the lens of the current economic uncertainty. You will discover innovative approaches to enhance risk assessment and decision-making at your financial institution. Experts will share practical strategies, equipping you with the tools to navigate these turbulent waters.

Arctic Wolf® Incident Response reveals that financial institutions are being hit with an average ransom demand of $550,000 USD. For the smaller players in the game, coughing up such an amount can wreak havoc on their finances.

Considering the goldmine of valuable data these organizations possess, their standing in the communities they serve, and the tightrope walk of meeting compliance requirements, it's clear they're up against a unique set of challenges and threats. Navigating this treacherous landscape calls for a well-rounded, operations-centric strategy that's as dynamic and vigilant as the cybercriminals themselves.
